Ref: AFA Action Alert Regarding Offence Material Broadcast by Fox
in the Family Guy Cartoon

Dear Lesley:

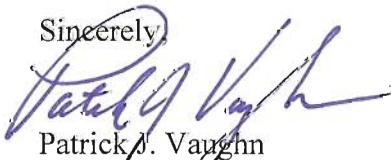

The American Family Association, Inc. ("AFA") has distributed an Action Alert to inform its supporters regarding offensive material contained in the cartoon Family Guy, which is broadcast over the Fox network, and to encourage those supporters to request that the Federal Communications Commission enforce its indecency regulations regarding the broadcast material. To accomplish this informational purpose AFA has attached brief program excerpts to document the material in question.

Such use of copyrighted material falls squarely within the "Fair Use" provisions of copyright law. Because of the fair use doctrine, AFA's Action Alert does not infringe upon Fox's copyright. Because of fair use, the web hosting of the brief excerpts of Family Guy does not infringe upon Fox's copyright, because viewing the excerpts is necessary for readers of the Action Alert to understand issue.

AFA fully intends to continue its campaign against Fox's broadcast of sexually offensive, anti-family, and anti-Christian content in the Family Guy cartoon.

Please contact me if you need further information.

Sincerely,

Patrick J. Vaughn
General Counsel
